Design-Build Technology Furniture Solutions

Marshall Furniture has been building presentation technology furniture since 1986. Because our foundation is rooted in the AV industry, we understand the relationship between technology and architecture. This experience allows us to design your furniture around system requirements while incorporating your size, style, and material preferences. Whether your project requires a completely unique solution or a more basic, ubiquitous design, both our Custom and Quick Ship lines have a variety of product offerings that will work for you.
